Meptagon acquires SEMPA SYSTEMS GmbH

Dresden, October 13, 2021– The Board of Directors of SEMPA announces that Meptagon Ireland which is owned by the global Meptagon Group, has acquired the ownership of SEMPA from Kurt Pietsch as of November 1, 2021.

An alliance of established companies

SEMPA was founded in 2001 by Kurt Pietsch to provide leading gas and chemical supply systems specifically tailored to the requirements of the electronics industry. Highest product quality, reliable delivery and flexible customizing to meet specific customer requests – over the years SEMPA gained a reputation as a preferred supplier and leading project partner in Germany and abroad.

Since its foundation, SEMPA has grown continuously under its own steam. The merger with the Meptagon Group now opens up a further stage of growth and internationalization that even better meets the requirements of global markets.

The Meptagon Group is an internationally active, multidisciplinary engineering and construction company that has been successful in the market since 1960. The company's clients come from the semiconductor, pharmaceutical, energy and more sectors. The company has a presence in Ireland, Central Europe, Israel and India.

Growth potential for SEMPA

The merger of Meptagon and SEMPA creates synergies. The combination of high-end process equipment, state-of-the-art design and integration capabilities, and multidisciplinary construction services in various industries offers new development potential and thus the opportunity for greater product diversification.

This step is a great opportunity for SEMPA: We look forward to further developing our solutions in the future, to support our customers to be the decisive step ahead and to be prepared for new market requirements. "I am overwhelmed to hand over SEMPA SYSTEMS to the Meptagon Group being convinced in the strategy and successful future" stated Kurt Pietsch.

The new Managing Director Rainer Erdmann (official start on November 1, 2021) and the current Co-Managing Director Dr. Jörg Koch, who will keep his position in Business Development and become a shareholder, will be at your disposal as contact persons.
